Re: Trans-Alarm

In June of 2007, after three years of planning, the City of Lakeville undertook the final phase of construction of the new Lakeville Police Station. Construction of a state of the art 70,000 square foot public safety facility such as the Lakeville Police Department involves complex and interdependent coordination of a number of sub contractors representing a wide variety of trades.

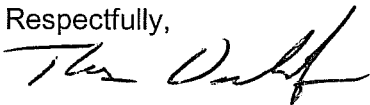

This project was completed on time and under budget as we moved into the fully operational facility on August 8th, 2008. This achievement, while impressive, was not solely due to the superb organization and coordination of a very competent general contractor.

The real key to our success in this project was the ability of each and every sub contractor to complete their work on time and, equally importantly, to the highest industry standard of quality that is demanded in a building that is being constructed to serve the public 24 hours a day, seven days a week for the next 50 years.

I am happy to report that Trans-Alarm completed their work to the highest industry standard of quality and completed the job on time. Their attention to detail and commitment to excellence is truly appreciated.

Thank you.

Respectfully,

Chief Thomas Vonhof
